

IBM Websphere Application Server

IBM WebSphere Application Server is the industry's market leading foundation for building, deploying, reusing, integrating and managing applications and services

WebSphere. software

The WebSphere Application Server drives business agility by providing millions of developers and IT Architects with an innovative, performance-based foundation to build, reuse, run, integrate and manage Service Oriented Architecture (SOA) applications and services.

WebSphere Application Server V6.1 is the foundation of the IBM WebSphere software platform, and a key building block for a Service Oriented Architecture (SOA). As the leading J2EE 1.4 and Web services application platform, WebSphere Application Server V6.1 delivers a high performance transaction engine that can help you build, run, integrate, and manage dynamic, On Demand Business applications. New and enhanced features deliver the flexible, open, resilient application infrastructure you need for SOA

Services provided:

- Install in an enterprise environment
- Install and Configure Application Servers
- Develop administrate and secure all solution's components: system, servers, DBs, software...
- Implement Security Policies
- Update software components
- Migrate into new releases
- Generate Reports
- Manage workload & failover
- Performing Maintenance and performance Tuning

Supported Platforms:

- AIX
- HP-UX
- LINUX
- SOLARIS
- WINDOWS
- I5/OS